What does the EPC do?

The EPC is an independent think tank that supports European integration, with a multi-constituency membership. As such, it does not represent any individual interest group and does not allocate funds for lobbying or for "representing interests to EU institutions" (see financial data section below).

What is the European Policy Centre (EPC)?

000703 105380 000The European Policy Centre (EPC) is committed to sound financial management and to transparency in respect of its funding sources. In line with its mission statement, the EPC is an independent think tank and none of the financing it receives affects its i

Who is a member of the EPC?

In line with its multi-constituency approach, members of the EPC comprise companies, professional and business federations, trade unions, diplomatic missions, regional and local bodies, as well as NGOs representing a broad range of civil society interests, foundations, international and religious organisations.

What is the EPC Observatory?

More information about summits can be found here. The EPC Observatory supports policymakers and the public in monitoring and assessing the initiatives agreed at the European leaders' summit level. The Observatory is driven by civil society and will be co-managed by CEPS and CSOs in the countries hosting upcoming EPC Summits.
