What makes the corrugated box industry unique in the Netherlands?

When exploring the corrugated box industry in the Netherlands, several key considerations come into play. The country is known for its robust regulatory framework, which emphasizes sustainability and environmental protection.

What is a corrugated board?

Take a quick look at our high-quality corrugated board! Corrugated cardboard is made up of two layers of paper, creating corrugations (or ridges) in the cardboard. The waves in the paper absorb any shocks and bumps and keep everything neatly in place. The corrugated layer provides excellent protection.
